BILLS THAT HAVE PASSED BOTH CHAMBERS AND ARE STILL IN AWAITING THE GOVERNOR'S SIGNATURE

The last day of the legislative session, March 29, also known as Sine Die, is tomorrow. This update covers the status of previously discussed legislation. Please note that some bill numbers have changed as the contents of some measures have been amended onto others in the legislative process.

BILLS THAT PASSED BOTH CHAMBERS, BUT NEED DIFFERENCES RECONCILED BEFORE BEING SENT TO THE GOVERNOR

The following bills passed both chambers, but are still pending reconciliation. They are likely to have amendments on them when they return to the last chamber. If the chamber agrees to the amendments, the bill will go to the governor. If it does not get an “agree,” it will go back to the last chamber.

BILLS THAT CROSSED OVER BUT ARE STILL IN COMMITTEE

After a bill has passed one chamber, it is sent to the other chamber for consideration. The other chamber may choose to pass it, reject it, or make changes to it before sending it back to the first chamber. These bills are likely to be voted on in the next legislative session.
